

Guerbet shows its commitment to healthcare professionals with two ranges of consumables selected for their injection solutions

*Presentation of the consumables portfolio, comprising 50 different products divided into two ranges: Essential certified by Guerbet and Excellence designed by Guerbet

Villepinte (France), June 29, 2020 - 18:00 CET - Guerbet (GBT), a global leader in medical imaging, has launched a new “consumables.guerbet.com” website presenting its Essential and Excellence ranges of consumables for use with injection solutions and tailored for diagnostic imaging professionals.

Essential certified by Guerbet is a range of easy-to-use consumables certified by Guerbet and supplied by manufacturers selected by the company. They are all tested and approved according to Guerbet quality standards and comply with medical devices regulations.

Excellence designed by Guerbet is a range of consumables designed from Guerbet research offering innovative<sup>1</sup> safety features and improving the workflow of injection procedures.

“We have segmented our consumables in two clearly identified Essential and Excellence ranges to make it easier for healthcare professionals to reach decisions. All our consumables are compatible with our CT, Cath Lab and MRI injection systems and benefit from our commitment to delivering safe, high-quality solutions crucial for improving patient prognosis and quality of life,” says Valérie Brissart, Global Marketing Director of CT and Cath Lab Imaging Solutions at Guerbet.
